Tips for high school students to write an essay

1. For a good essay, you should first decide which type of essay you want to write. There are four main types of essays: narrative essay, expository essay, descriptive essay, and persuasive essay.
2. Once you have decided on the type of essay then it would be easy for you to work and search on the respective topic. The technique of writing for each type also varies, so the selection of the type of essay is very important. You must focus on both - the good content and quality of your essay.
3. The type of essay also depends on your subject. According to the subject matter, you can write an argumentative essay, problem-solution essay, and compare and contrast essay.
4. Brainstorming is a crucial step that would help you to draft an outline and make a sequence of your data in the form of an essay. You can write down all the points during brainstorming and then change their sequence which suits your essay best.
5. If you want to write on a unique topic, you have to research well. Your research is vital for writing an essay because it would add extra credibility to every presented argument.
6. Drafting an outline is important before writing an introduction. An outline can be in the form of proper sentences or pointers. You can choose depending upon your convenience, your topic, and the type of essay.
7. You must include a thesis statement in your essay, at the end of your introduction. This statement tells the reader about the direction of your essay and how many points you will try to address in your essay.
8. Your essay must be carefully drafted and divided into three main parts: introduction, body, and conclusion. The body may consist of multiple paragraphs depending upon the length of the essay.
9. After writing your essay, you should review and proofread it for spelling, punctuation, and grammar errors.

I am sure you can write extraordinarily if you follow the aforementioned details.

Format of a Research Essay

1. Paper: It is good and helpful to use MS Word for your essay as it provides various options for printing. Always use good quality, clean paper with a size of 8 ½"*11".
2. Margins: Generally, your margins for an essay should be one inch from all four sides but there are some exceptions too in different formats to write my paper
3. Title page: The title page is not mandatory for the research essay unless your teacher asks you to add it. Write the title of the essay, your name and the institution's name on this page. If it is not required, start writing your essay from the first page after mentioning the topic..
4. Page Numbers: Before submission, make sure that each page is visibly numbered. The location of page number varies depending upon the citation format.
5. Spacing between lines: The ideal format for academic writing is double spacing; in certain cases, it can also be 1.5 spacing, or as per the instructions of your teacher.
6. Justify text: When you finalize your writing use the option of text justification; it would distribute your text evenly between margins.
7. Indentation: It means one-inch blank space to the left in the first line of each paragraph. Sometimes it is not necessary but if thesis writing service working on a certain format, get the paragraph indents accordingly.
